Is Denied -- Heavy Cost Bill.

A motion for judgment non obstante for the defendants in the ejectment ease of Charles A. Brown vs. John D. day before Judge De Bolt. The motion may be sold at higher prices. was denied and exceptions taken to the ruling. Its grounds were as follows:

"1. That the plaintiff has shown no plaintiff obtained no title by the release from Martha B. Pitman, it apearing from the undisputed evidence that he was not at the time of the delivery of said deed in possession of said premises or any part thereof, nor had he any right, title or interest therein.

"2. That it appears from the undisputed evidence that the premises in controversy were so used, occupied and enjoyed in connection with the premises conveyed from Benjamin Pitman to Thomas Spencer by deed dated January 1, 1861, that they passed as an appurtenance of the lands by said deed

"3. That the undisputed evidence shows the exercise of a proprietary Meets every third Monday at 7:30 p. | right by Thomas Spencer for a long period of time under circumstances which can be explained satisfactorily upon the hypothesis of a grant from Benjamin Pitman to Thomas Spencer of the premises in controversy and that it was the duty of the jury to presume such grant or other conveyance.

"4. That the undisputed evidence shows that the Hawaiian government is entitled to a large portion of the premises in controversy as accretions to its riparian property extending from the corner of Front and Waianuenue streets to the Government wharf and that the evidence for the plaintiff failed to designate such portion, and the jury failed to find for the defendants as required by plaintiff's instruction xvii. given by the court to the jury."

The form of judgment filed in the case gives to plaintiff two pieces of deserve. day, at 8 p. m., in C. B. U. Hall, Fort land, comprising the premises in disstreet. Visiting sisters are cordially pute, their areas being respectively 39,639 square feet and 2800 square feet, with reservation in each case of the area now occupied as part of Front street, Hilo.

The plaintiff's bill of costs amounting to $1847.85 was put off till next Friday for argument. It is made up of the following total items, the particu-lars of each being given: Costs of court, two cases, circuit and supreme courts, $185.15; attorney's fees (covering transcripts, etc.), $485.50; witness fees (1st, 2d and 3d trials in Hilo; 4th trial in Kailua, 5th and 6th trials in Honolulu), $1177.20.

PEACOCK INJUNCTION.

At 3:50 yesterday afternoon the respondent rested in the injunction suit of Rothwell vs. Peacock and the complainant had no rebuttal to offer. It was agreed between Messrs, Ballou and Mott-Smith for complainant and Ashford and Noar for respondent that the case be submitted on briefs by the closing hours of Tuesday next. Judge Lindsay, on being consulted, had expressed a preference to briefs over oral

THE KINGHAM VERDICT.

J. J. Dunne and E. A. Douthitt, at torneys for plaintiff in the damage suit of John Kingham vs. Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co., have filed objections and exceptions to plaintiff's bill of exceptions. The grounds presented in detail are mostly either that the defendant offers no grounds for certain exceptions in the bill or that it failed to reserve exceptions at the trial, with reference to the respective matters. In the latter regard is the verdict of the jury, the plaintiff's attorneys saying that no exception was reserved by de fendant thereto nor any notice of motion for a new trial given. In conclusion they move to strike out the whole of the bill of exceptions on the ground that it does not comply with a certain rule of the Supreme Court. Natice is given that the motion will be presented before Judge De Bolt on Wednesday next. The present fight is over the jury's verdict of $5000 damages for the plaintiff.

THE HANDY MAN.

James A. Thompson, second deputy clerk of the Judiciary department, went to Wailuku last night to act as stenographer at Judge Kepoikai's court term opening today. He is known in the de-partment as "the handy man," from acting on occasion as either clerk, stenographer or Hawaiian interpreter. The other day he acted as both stenographer and interpreter at the same time in the Court of Land Registration.

Either a very mysterlous malady is veredicto, or contrary to the verdict, attacking chickens, or some criminally-mischievous persons are destroying other people's fowls so that the pro-Spreckels and others was filed yester- duction of eggs from their own hens

Reports come from several sections of the outlying districts in the past week of hens suddenly drooping their title to the premises in controversy in heads and dying. One native woman this action and in particular that the living near the Kaimuki section hurried into a neighbor's house a few mornings ago to report that twentyfive hens had dropped dead from their perches during the night. The birds were apparently in good health the day before. They were plump and had been well fed and the owner is yet at a loss to know what caused the

> In Manoa a similar fatality has attacked one or two hen yards. In the last four days one owner has lost fifteen fine, fat hens and a couple of roosters. These died mostly in the daytime. It was noticed that their heads suddenly drooped and they fell to the ground quickly and became dead in a short time.

Some people who have raised chickens for years say that extreme heat will cause death in this manner, and that overfeeding sometimes produces quick death among very plump fowls.

FIGHT STILL ON.

Catton Bros. & Co. are not accepting the recent decision of the supreme court, in favor of the Territory and its $25,000 verdict against them, as a finality. They have filed a brief in advantage in the main fight over the which it is contended that Judge Gear's question of the personnel of the legal decision granting a new trial, though corporation of W. C. Peacock & Co., made in San Francisco, is legal and, if not, that Judge Lindsay had a right to order a new trial as he did. The supreme court's decision put them out of court for neglect to file a bond on their motion for a new trial in the time required by law. They consider it an equitable hardship to be compelled to pay $25,000 on account of technicalities.

GETS SHOT

Chan Sun Cak, Korean,

Chan Sun Dak, the Korean who was shot on Monday night at Alewa, near the end of Judd street, was the victim of another Korean's jealousy, but Sun Dak was the wrong man. Yee Man Young, who is under arrest for attempting to murder Sun Dak, mistook the latter for a Korean named Cho Aujae. Yee Man Young and Che Aujae were rivals for the affections of a woman. In giving her preference to Yee Man Young, she aroused the jealousy of Cho Aujae and he endeavored to kill not only the man, but the woman. Yee Man Young also tried his hand at ridding the world of Cho Aujae and the woman. It all wound up by Yee Man Young going gunning for Cho Aujae and shooting Chan Sun Dak, who was entirely outside of the feudan innocent victim. The shooting, it will be remembered, took place almost in front of Mr. Emmeluth's place, where Sun Dak was employed at the time, and where Yee Man Young had at one time been yard-boy.

Yee Man Young has confessed to the police that he did the shooting and gave his reasons. The confession came primarily through his endeavoring to swallow a peliet of paper when taken to the police station. He was seen to place the paper in his mouth. Officers choked him and compelled him to disgorge the pellet. In Oriental characters the names of Yee Man Young and that of the woman in the case, who is not a Korean, by the way, were in-scribed on the paper. With this clew Assistant Sheriff Henry Vida began an investigation, and with the confession. the entire story is now complete. Yee Man Young several months ago became yard boy for a family at Alethrills through everyone of the eleven wa. Cho Aujae came more recently as cook. Both fell in love with the same woman, who resided at or near the house. Yee Man Young threatened to end the woman's existence unless drew a crowd that fairly vibrated she threw over Cho Aujae. The latter with enthusiasm and it is safe to say said he would kill her unless she gave up Yee Man Young. At length the woman cut the Gordian knot by sendthe appreciation the Buhlers so well- ing Yee Man Young away and getting him a room on Kukui street near River. Yee Man was quite overcome odds, for his murdered uncle's fair at the discovery. This was on Monday. The trio repaired to Yee Man Young's room. Finally, Yee Man Young be presented. "Fast Life" is on again said he would withdraw in favor of Cho Aufae. However, he changed his mind and decided the best thing to do would be to kill the pair and then himself. Che Aujae thought he might as well kill Yee Man Young. He left the house and returned with a rusty revolver and a razor. The revolver would not work.

There was another discussion, resulting in Yee Man Young going away. He went to a Korean hotel and disguised himself by wearing a cap instead of a hat. Then he went to the vicinity of the house where Cho Aujae worked, and from which place he. Yee Man Young, had been discharged. H. waited in the shade of a tree and finally when he saw a man emerge from the yard he fired his revolver. and then ran away. But the man whom he had shot was Sun Dak, who had become yard-boy in his place. Yee Man Young fled to Ewa, pawning his revolver for $2 with a friend.
